THE ENTERTAINING ISSUE!

Cara Woodhouse Interiors

BEDROOM

"So much of our time is spent in the bedroom, and I wanted to create a dreamy sanctuary," says Brooklyn-based designer Cara Woodhouse. A statement-making watercolor wallpaper by Cuffhome for Black Crow Studios and Woodhouse's own designs—including a bed upholstered in a Pierre Frey fabric and a custom shearling rug from Stark—anchor the space.

The Goods

"Something borrowed, something blue" is the underlying theme of this bedroom, which features a blue-and-white-check bed from Hästens and a wedding dress by Ines Di Santo. "I imagine a bride getting ready for her wedding here," says designer Björn Björnsson. "I wanted the room to feel light, cheerful, and elegant."
